

MUSEUM AFTER HOURS

CAPTURED

The Extraordinary Adventures of Colonel Hughes

Program Series • 6:30 p.m. Fridays • FREE

JUNE 10, 2016

“Animals of the Allies,” Cherie Kelly, school programs manager, The National World War I Museum and Memorial

JULY 8, 2016

“Searching for Eisenhower’s Climactic D-Day Words,” Tim Rives, deputy director, Eisenhower Presidential Library and Museum

AUGUST 12, 2016

“From Fatherland to Farmland: German POWs in the Great Plains,” Matt Thompson, independent public historian and former registrar, Eisenhower Presidential Library and Museum

SEPTEMBER 9, 2016

“Do Your Bit—Knit!” Stacie Petersen, registrar, The National World War I Museum and Memorial

OCTOBER 14, 2016

“World War I Memorials and Monuments,” Jim Heiman, Metropolitan Community College, Independence, Missouri

NOVEMBER 18, 2016

“J.R.R. Tolkien and the Battle of the Somme,” Jonathan R. Casey, archivist and Edward Jones Research Center manager, The National World War I Museum and Memorial

DECEMBER 9, 2016

“Toy Soldiers and Baby Dolls: Toys of the War Years,” Laura S. Taylor, curator of interpretation, National Museum of Toys and Miniatures

JANUARY 13, 2017

“The U.S. Doughboy Over There: What He Carried and What He Dragged Home,” Charlie Pautler, museum director, Shawnee Town 1929

FEBRUARY 10, 2017

“Make Way for Democracy: African Americans in World War I,” Lora Vogt, curator of education, The National World War I Museum and Memorial

MARCH 10, 2017

“A Kansas Nurse in the B.E.F., 1918: With the Tommies. Letters and other Memories from Florence Edith Hemphill, U.S. Army Nurse Corps, British Expeditionary Force in World War I,” Doran Cart, senior curator, The National World War I Museum and Memorial

APRIL 14, 2017

“The Development of Chemical Warfare,” Kip Lindberg, director, Chemical Corps Museum, U.S. Army Chemical, Biological, Radiological, and Nuclear School, Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri

MAY 12, 2017

“Serving America While Serving Time,” Kori Thompson, instructor, Hutchinson Community College

JUNE 9, 2017

“Doughboys and Doughnut Girls: The Salvation Army and WWI,” Chris Cantwell, assistant professor of history, University of Missouri, Kansas City

KANSAS MUSEUM OF HISTORY

6425 SW 6th Avenue • Topeka
758-272-8681 • kshs.org/museum

Freedom’s
Frontier
NATIONAL HERITAGE AREA

100

KANSAS WORLD WAR I
CENTENNIAL • COMMITTEE