

Archaeology in the Classroom

Discover how Project Archaeology fosters an understanding of past and present cultures while it improves social studies, science, and literacy education.

Wednesday – Friday, July 27 – 29, 2016
Brown Center, Cowley College
215 S 2nd Street, Arkansas City

Workshop: 8 a.m. – 5 p.m.

- Instruction in the basics of scientific inquiry, using archaeological data to investigate and interpret past cultures.
- Standards-based curriculum appropriate for, but not limited to, grades three through eight.

Materials provided at no charge.

- Project Archaeology: Investigating Shelter (endorsed by the National Council for the Social Studies)
 - Intrigue of the Past (facilitator training only)
 - The Archaeology of Wichita Indian Shelter in Kansas
 - The Archaeology of Early Agriculture in Kansas
 - Migration of the Pueblo People to El Cuartelejo
- Tour of sites related to the Etzanoa Archaeological Project
 - Two college credit hours, offered through Baker University, or professional development points available. Tuition is $65 per hour.
 - Facilitator training available for participants interested in teaching Project Archaeology materials to other instructors.

Enrollment is limited to 25 people. Application deadline is July 1, 2016. Application form available at kshs.org/18959. Mail completed form to Virginia Wulfkuhle, Kansas Historical Society, 6425 SW 6th Avenue, Topeka KS 66615-1099.

